

THIS REPORT PRESENTS HIGHLIGHTS OF THE 2000/01 TANZANIAN HOUSEHOLD BUDGET SURVEY, CONDUCTED BY THE NATIONAL BUREAU OF STATISTICS.

THE SURVEY COVERED MORE THAN 22,000 HOUSEHOLDS ACROSS ALL TWENTY REGIONS OF TANZANIA MAINLAND.

THE FINDINGS WILL FORM THE BASIS FOR MEASURING PROGRESS RESULTING FROM THE GOVERNMENT'S POVERTY-REDUCTION POLICIES. THEY ALSO SHOW TRENDS DURING THE 1990s IN MANY IMPORTANT POVERTY INDICATORS.

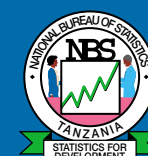

THIS REPORT IS AN ESSENTIAL SOURCE OF INFORMATION FOR EVERYONE WHO IS INTERESTED IN POVERTY IN TANZANIA.

Acknowledgements

This report represents the result of the efforts of many individuals. Many staff members of the National Bureau of Statistics worked on the 2000/01 Household Budget Survey. It was managed by Mr Said Aboud. Mr Emilian Karugendo, Mr Mlemba Abassy and Mrs Ephygenia Woisso were desk officers. Data entry and cleaning was managed by Mr David Danda, Mr Joshua Mwaisemba, Mr Fred Matola and Mrs Joy Sawe. The data analysis was conducted by Mlemba Abassy, David Danda and Fred Matola.

Thanks go to Oxford Policy Management (UK) and its partners, who assisted with sampling, data processing, analysis and report writing. Particular thanks go to Patrick Ward, Trudy Owens (Centre for the Study of African Economies), Ahmed Makbel, Jeff Mwaijonga and Goodchance Aminiel (DataVision International), Juan Muñoz, Victor Canales, Ludovico Carraro, Donato Speroni and Sofia Barletta of Odysseus, Neil Chalmers, George Clark, John Wright, Mohamed Rashid Lugongo and Zakayo Msokwa of the East African Statistical Centre and David Nyange of the Economic and Social Research Foundation.

I also wish to thank members of the Technical Working Groups of Tanzania's Poverty Monitoring System, whose comments and guidance strengthened the analysis. They include Arthur Mwapugi (President's Office – Planning and Privatisation), Professor Joseph Semboja (REPOA), Dr Servacius Likwelele (Vice President's Office), Professor H. K. R. Amani (ESRF), Alice Nkhoma-Wamunza (UDSM), Prof. Marjorie Mbilinyi (UDSM), Valerie Leach (UNICEF), Arthur van Diesen (UNDP), Professor Benno Ndulu (World Bank), Alana Albee (UK DFID), Tomoko Enoki (JICA) and Jackson Biswaro (JICA).

The survey was assisted by our development partners. I would especially like to thank the United Kingdom Department for International Development (Tanzania), who in addition to providing finance for the survey also funded its analysis and assisted in responding to challenges throughout the process. Funding was also provided by Governments of Sweden (SIDA), Canada (CIDA), Netherlands (the Royal Netherlands Embassy), Denmark (DANIDA), Japan (JICA), United States (USAID), Norway and UNDP. The Bank of Tanzania supported initiatives in mobilising financing and assisted with funding itself.

Finally, I would like to express our gratitude to all the households and enumerators who provided and collected information across the country.
